ROWE is experienced in a variety of downtown and streetscape improvements, including maximizing parking configurations and curb and sidewalk restoration. Our talented team of landscape architects and civil engineers excel at incorporating decorative pavement, ornamental brickwork and lighting, as well as gateway features, such as benches, parks, and planters into new downtown designs.

We aim to incorporate pedestrian-friendly elements into existing commercial, recreational, and residential areas. This includes restoring and retaining historic elements and existing landmarks to flow with an updated design.

Our team is successful in gaining community support for many projects that include the re-routing of traffic or widening of streets. Prior to project approval, we host community open forums where any concerns from the client and the community can be addressed.
